

CROC'S FIVE STAR VACATION.

The croc out Macknade way have a five star vacation,
One little snapper lazed in Rita and Keith's backyard pool,
For a small duration.
It lolled on the bottom in calm salty water, that flooded week'
But the feisty creature was soon returned to a near by creek.

Croc's other choice for a five star vacation,
Was the golf course, that locals reckon is the best in the nation.
T'was there a couple went a few rounds in the flooded C.S.R. Sugar Mill golf links,
When they were chased by worker Dennis they must have had some Hi Jinks.

If you need a five star vacation
Keep away from this visitor or you may become a hospital patient.
This croc spent some time wandering around the Lion Hotel,
To him no beer or wine did mine host shout or sell.

But two large salties didn't have a five star vacation,
Their holiday was not far from Halifax's main street, shops, and petrol station.
They sojourned down the road near the bridge by the road side.
They must have had a wild time in the back flow of the Herbert flowing wide.

So if you need a five star vacation
Spend some time in Macknade's flood time for a duration.

VERA CUTTING.
